FOREWORD

Now-a-days when the world is so troubled we hear people talk about the times when there wasn't any trouble — well, at least not as much. Just before the turn of the twentieth century came one of these periods full of fun, gaiety, and excitement known as the "Gay Nineties". We, the Highlander staff, wish to show you our idea of a contrast of life during the "Gay Nineties" and life in the 1950's.

This year we honor one who has been a leader in the classroom and in sports. His thoroughness as a teacher is relieved by his quick wit and good sense of humor. We, the Senior Class, wish to dedicate The Highlander of 1952 to C. H. Marshall.

In the "Gay Nineties", the typical schoolmarm taught the daily quotation by the hickory pointer. Familiar sight in our day is the parade of the teacher signing in.

Administration

*Within the walls of Highland Park
The halls of learning are not dark.
Bright has been the lamp of knowledge,
May it make us bright in college!
We've had our gay days bright with laughter,
Times we'll think of long years after.
But now, all I can say (in rhyme)
Is "Thanks, High Park, for a wonderful time."*

During the days of the "Gay Nineties" the symbol of organization was the famous barber shop quartet. In Hi Park the Student Council consists of student-elected representatives who work as a unit for the betterment of our school.

Organizations

Checking the new edition of "The Clan" are Don Mighell, Arden Bowers, Sally Slaton, Patricit Smith, Bill Adams, Walter Wink, George Reynolds, and Ruth Ann Barrett, members of the Executive Committee.

The Student Council

Student Council . . . Its principle function is to promote cooperation between the students and faculty. The honor of being a member is bestowed upon only fifty or sixty members a semester. In its meetings the Council tries to iron out difficulties, discuss projects for the year, decide upon their social functions. Some of its activities are the selling of football ribbons, dances after the football games, publishing the school directory ("The Clan"), sponsoring school elections, maintaining a file of all the students' schedule cards. This year's main project is the support of two French orphans started by last year's Council.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

National Honor Society . . . Leadership, scholarship, and service head the qualifications for membership to the club. Each semester three per cent of the 3A class, seven per cent of the 3A class, seven per cent of the 4B class, fifteen per cent of the 4A class that have met the qualifications are admitted to the club. Ushering at school activities is the principal function of the club. To the outstanding boy and girl in the graduating class goes the club's highest honor — the "H" Blanket Award.

HI LITES

Hi Lites . . . Each new girl coming to H.P.H.S. is made to feel at home by her "big sister". In the fall a tea is given for the new girls and all the mothers. The programs are arranged by the Program Committee and are presented by the girls or a speaker. One of the high points of the school year is the annual Religious Focus Week sponsored jointly by the Hi Lites and Hi-Y. Each Saturday several girls go to the Mexican Mission to lead the children in singing, playing games, and drawing. Also they give a Christmas party for these children. On the social side a dance, an all-girl party is given each semester.

Fall Hi-Y officers are Ernie Kennedy, Allen Jones, George Reynolds, Don Alexander, Richard Steele, Walter Wink, and Ken Hemple.

Youth and Government delegates Johnny Stuart, Willis Tate, Victor Lary, Duke Underwood, and Walter Wink discuss plans with their sponsor, Mr. Widener.

The annual fall Hi-Y dance was held at the new Park Cities YMCA building.

HI-Y

Hi-Y Club is a branch of the YMCA. Its motto clearly states the purpose of the club. "To create and maintain throughout the school and community, higher standards of Christian character." The programs consist of successful business men talking of their vocation, a group of members demonstrating their talents. Every year about the middle of December, eight boys and a sponsor are sent to Austin to the Youth and Government Conference. A Religious Focus Week is jointly sponsored with the Hi-Lites. For recreation, the Hi-Y offers two dances a year. Mr. Ruddell and Mr. Widner sponsor the club.

Looks as if we caught the Round Table posing instead of discussing.

ROUND TABLE

Round Table . . . This organization sponsors weekly discussions on many problems. Decisions are not always reached, but the members are given both sides of the question. Willingness to devote time to study, tolerance, and willingness to learn are necessary attitudes. Members are picked from all phases of Hi Park life to obtain a true cross section viewpoint.

Vice-President Dorothy Nettleton and Secretary Alice Evans watch as President Beverly Bercu pins the badge of Quill and Scroll on a new member, Eileen Ruebel.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll . . . To the journalistically inclined Scot the club for him is the international journalism club, the Quill and Scroll. To gain entrance one must maintain a high scholastic average, be at least a junior, work on some publication staff in school, and be recommended by his sponsor. The emblem of the club is the flaming torch and banner.

DRAMATICS CLUB

Dramatics Club . . . The club offers an outlet for Hi Park theatrical talents. The members are selected by the executive board in bi-annual tryouts. The club presents numerous assemblies to be sure each student interprets one role a semester. One of the highlights of the year is the Christmas pageant given jointly by the Dramatics Club, Music Department, and Art Club.

Future Rembrandts have a rousing rejoicing.

Officers of the Art Club: Fred Kribs, Carolyn Parker, Julia Zimmerman, Katrin Schoonmaker, and Jeanne Norsworthy.

ART CLUB

Art Club . . . The activities of the Art Club include scenery for plays and filling the display cases with art objects done by the art classes. On Tuesday afternoons after school the club meets and each member is encouraged to work in the phase of art which appeals to him most. Social activities include a semi-formal dinner and a picnic.

Officers of the Junior Historical Society, Jean, Lida Mae, Lou, Rudy, Betty Ann, Mrs. Miller, Rae, and Janice examine the new edition of "The Junior Historical Review".

JUNIOR HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Junior Historical Society . . . The club devotes its time to study of history, community, and state. Each April the historians send representatives to the Texas Historical Society in Austin. Papers of a historical nature may be presented at this meeting. Among their more important services is the partial support of a family from West Dallas.

OFFICERS

Mary Lou McMahon	President
Lida Mae Smith	Vice-President
Betty Ann Clark	Recording Secretary
Rae Rivers	Corresponding Secretary
Jean Gurley	Treasurer
Janice Moore	Historian
Rudy Turner	Parliamentarian
Mrs. I. O. Miller	Sponsor

The committee selects the outstanding paper for the Junior Historical Contest.

Members prepare Christmas gifts for the Veterans' Hospital.

Travel Club officers, Sally Edmonson, Pattye Dalchau, Mitzi Strock, Mary Lou Jones, and Stephanie Smith plan the program with Mrs. Miller.

Travel Club members play Santa Claus to the underprivileged.

Carrie Jane Whaley and Pattye Dalchau confer with German exchange student, Herr Combrink.

TRAVEL CLUB

Travel Club . . . If you attend a meeting you might see a film on African wild life, or hear an interesting travel talk. Welfare work as well as travel is an interest of the club. A group of Y-Teen girls from Thomas A. Edison have been adopted by the club. Each of the girls from the Y-Teen Club receives a gift box at a Christmas party given by the Travel Club.

FOOTBALL

Alexander and Sparrow clear the way for another Scot gain.

This year the Scots started with everything new. With only one returning starter, the Scots fielded a light, fast, and inexperienced eleven. Also new this year was head coach G. B. Morris and his two assistants, C. Q. Smith and Dan Williams. The Scots were placed with a tough new district 5AAAA with Tyler, Sherman, Denison, Texarkana, Waco, and Wichita Falls. The Scots ended with four wins, five losses, and one tie.

No, no, mustn't touch!

WILDCATS SURPRISE HI PARK 18-0

An underrated Woodrow Wilson eleven used its weight to advantage on the muddy field at Dal-Hi Stadium. The light, air-minded Scot team found it hard to control passes or maintain footing. Stand-outs for the Scots were Don Alexander, Jay Fikes, John Beasley, and Ken Hempel.

PASCHAL PANTHERS STUN SCOTS 32-14

Passes from Dee Norton to John Beasley and Johnny Berke respectively accounted for the Avalanche's 14 points. Hughes-to-Cozart passes for Paschal managed to give the Panthers Fort Worth's first win over the Blue and Gold in years. This was also the first time in two years Hi Park had lost two consecutive grid tilts.

A Scot scores against Forest.

DENISON DEADLOCKS THE AVALANCHE ON LATE RUN 6-6

On a water-soaked grid, the Denison Yellowjackets knotted the count late in the fourth period with a 62-yard run and tied the Scots 6-6. The mud again proved Hi Park's undoing as fumbles marred the play. A pass from Don Alexander to George Reynolds gave the Scots their only score.

Berke scampers a little father with the aid of a block by Fikes.

CLAN CRUSHES FOREST 26-0

At last hitting their stride, the Scots added another game to their home field winning streak, subduing the Lions 26-0 before 4,500 fans. The forward wall, pushed by Bill Belcher, Jay Fikes, and Jim Groves, held Forest in check while Don Alexander, John Beasley, Ken Hempel, George Reynolds, and Chuck Mansfield provided the yardage and points.

KILTIES SMOTHER TYLER 26-0

With Don Alexander completing 11 out of 15 pass attempts, Jay Fikes snagging aerals, and Ken Hempel powering through the line, the Scots sparkled at Highland Field to spill Tyler, 26-0. The Lions were simply outclassed during the whole game.

WACO TIGERS TRIP SCOTCHMEN 32-18

Though the Scots rallied to within one point of the Tigers late in the third quarter, Waco managed to widen its margin and set back Hi Park in its first district encounter. Ken Hempel's plunge, Don Alexander's pass to Chuck Mansfield, and Johnny Berke's 80-yard run gave the Scots their scores.

Hemple rambles over the goal against Jesuit.

SCOTS SUCCUMB TO TEXARKANA 34-18

Our second district encounter found the Plaid Clan tangling with the Texarkana Tigers. Though tallies were contributed by Johnny Berke (on a 70-yard scamper), George Reynolds, and Ken Hempel, the Felines copped the contest 34 to 18. All conversion tries by the Scots were unsuccessful.

JESUIT IS JOLTED BY SCRAPPY SCOTS 36-0

In biting cold the Plaidsmen rolled up 297 yards to the Rangers' minus 14. Scoring chores were divided among Johnny Berke, Ken Hempel, Smithy Keller, John Beasley, and John Crockett. Jesuit paid tribute to the Scots stating that they would rather beat Hi Park than any other team.

JINX HOLDS, COYOTES DOWN BLUE AND GOLD 20-6

For the third straight year the Wichita Falls Coyotes ended the Scots' season in a loss, winning this year 20-6. Ken Hempel provided the Hi Park score in the rugged Turkey Day encounter. The loss gave the Scots a final record of two wins, three losses, and one tie in their first year of 5AAAA play.

Say, couldn't we stop and talk this thing over like gentlemen?

BEARCATS ARE BLASTED 34-19

Coming home for another game, the Highlanders crushed the Sherman Bearcats in a rough and tumble tilt, 34-19. Don Alexander plunged over for one score and hit Jay Fikes, Chuck Mansfield, and George Reynolds twice for the others. Fikes converted successfully four times.

BASKETBALL

Inspired by the able leadership of Coach Ralph Binnion, the Highland Park Scots launched their 1951-'52 district basketball campaign with five wins and nine losses in pre-district play. Shifting into high gear the quintet speeded up to come out third in District 5AAAA with seven wins and five losses. Although outscored, the Scots were never outfought throughout the season as the typical Highlander spirit is truly unbeatable. The Scot offense started clicking by mid-season with a greater degree of consistency thanks to Jack DuLaney's control of the backboard and the deadly aim of Charlie Fraser. Ernie Kennedy was the spark plug of the Blue and Gold defense, while the constant hustle and point making of Ham Shaw and Bob Sharpe paced the Golden Avalanche to their hard-earned victories. Not to be overlooked is the great spirit of the entire squad throughout the season and the never ceasing efforts of the managers, Pete Peterson and Don Bowman, to serve the team. Highlander reserves, Johnny Apple, Tom DuLaney, and Bill Ballard, added strong support to the team and deserve due merit.

With her long dress to hide her ankles and a ribbon to tie her hair, the gal of the "Gay Nineties" was ready to participate in the respectable game of tennis. Today in their favorite costume, the blue gym suit, the members of the fair sex play nearly the same games as the boys.

Girls' Sports

What is all that noise coming from the west end of the building? It sounds like wild Indians going on a scalping party but a peek in the door reveals a girls' gym class in action. Each is screaming at the top of her lungs in her excitement over throwing an overgrown Lifesaver across the net to her opponent. This fascinating game, which is played the first six weeks of the fall semester, is known as tenniquoit. Outside it sounds as though a war is being fought by other wild Indians. Upon approaching the field, we find more girls dressed in their native costume, the blue gym suit. They are engaged in a game of speedball, which requires skill in manipulating the ball down the field.

For the next four weeks the girls are seen painfully limping around school. The sore and aching muscles are due to the posture and conditioning exercises which are part of the physical education program. Although the savage spirit shown earlier in the year has abated, the Indian influence is still to be found, for the exercises are performed to the beat of a tom-tom.

After these painful exercises, the fair sex is in condition for their favorite sport, basketball. For two weeks they review the rules and practice shooting for baskets and guarding. The actual games start with the beginning of the third six weeks, and although the girls know the rules, the game still resembles a massacre, for the players in their eagerness to get the ball, often knock one another down. Even though the game is a little rough at the beginning of the season, it smooths out with daily practice.

With the opening of the spring term, "Blondie" is seen putting up the nets for volleyball. Characteristics of this game are broken fingernails and many miscellaneous dislocations. As the ball leaves the server's hand she waits to see it go over the net, but much to her surprise it lands three courts away. Just as the warriors are beginning to learn volleyball the first six weeks are over and they start firstaid. This schedule has worked out very well, because now they can learn how to treat the injuries resulting from the previous sport. They spend three tedious weeks taking notes and practicing what they have learned on each other.

"Now, promenade, single file, Lady in front, Indian style. Stop and swing that squaw behind you. Swing, little Indians, swing!" The excited chatter and screaming that is usually heard from the gym has changed to music, the sliding two-step, and the square dance call.

First period gym plays tennis the last six weeks while the other classes are playing softball and badminton. Four teams play softball while two teams battle with the birdies inside. The girls, forgetting their own strength, swing wildly at the birdie. Their opponents across the net look up, not to hit the birdie, but to see it perched on the rafter.

After school the more energetic ones can take part in intramural sports. They are divided into two leagues, the Monday-Wednesday League and the Tuesday-Thursday League. Any girl that comes out for every sport and misses not more than one game can win a gym award. These awards are medals with "Intramural Sports" written on them.

Our hats are off to Miss Murchison and Miss Watson. They are wonderful sports. We would like to take this opportunity to say "Thanks a lot."

Just before the turn of the century the boys were considering military service in the Spanish-American War. Today with the world as troubled as it is, the boys' thoughts are again turned to military service.

Military

Reserve Officers Training Corps

Our Highland Park ROTC Regiment is among the best of the seven ROTC Units in Dallas. The Highland Park unit does not only broaden the military knowledge of the individual; it also teaches him discipline and leadership. A significant reason for the highly rated unit at Highland Park is the spirit and determination among the cadets to go to the top. The unit is under the direct leadership of Lt. Comdr. Floyd Hightower (USNR), who has been the commandant of the cadets since 1946 after his return from duty with the U. S. Navy. His assistant is Major Newman F. Casey. The ROTC Band, under the direction of Col. Instructor Harry Barton, has striven for the utmost in maintaining the highest standard of Tuesday parade and formal occasions as reviews and inspections.

Throughout the year the Highlander Band is one of the hardest working organizations in the school. The members report for practice a week or two in advance of the opening of school, mainly in preparation for the football season, in which the band plays a major part. These loyal Scots attend every game, rain or shine, to cheer on the team and to present a spectacular halftime show. Many hours of hard drilling and practicing go into every show. What would a pep rally be without the band?

After football season, these musicians get down to work in preparing for the spring concerts. The entire band puts in one hour of practice a day for this, and in addition there are the sectional rehearsals once a week for an hour before school and many hours of individual practice at home.

Every year there is a solo contest in which each member of the band must memorize and play a solo, with piano accompaniment, before a judge for criticism. This preparation and the criticism received are of great value in improving one's musical abilities. A first division in this contest is the goal of each bandsman, for the solo must be near perfect for this award.

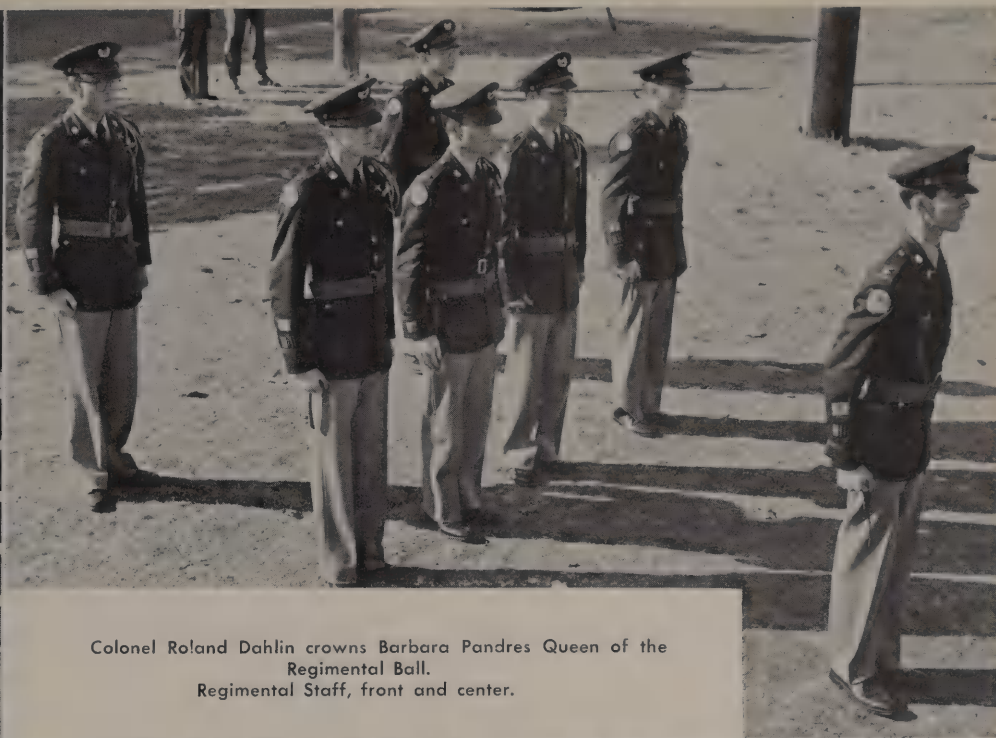

As a part of the ROTC unit the band plays for the ROTC parades. The officers in the band comprise the band staff and each officer is responsible for the performance of his duty.

An annual banquet is the occasion of the awarding of letters. Since letters are awarded on a strict point system, only the most efficient and outstanding band members receive them.
